eratic candidate for Treasurer of Illinois was elect ed over the Fusion candidate by 5,000 majority As a great re-action has taken place there, as everywhere else, the eleven votes of Illinois may be set down as certain for Buchanan.

In 1855, the Democrats of Wisconsin elected their whole State ticket by an average majority licans and Kuow-Nothings combined upon a would certainly be elected.' single ticket. Does any man suppose that the Wisconsin can be put down as sure for Buchanan. and sinew of the Republican party." In the county elections in Indiana last Octogave their candidate for Governor (Ingraham) about as many votes as the Know-Nothing and Black Republican nominees received, both put are, therefore, the best.

In New York, at the State election in 1855, the Democratic vote, "Hard and Soft," was some thousands more than any other organizaon, although a large number of Democrats, knowing that there was no chance of success, on account of the division in the party, staid at home and did not vote at all. This year Mr. Buchanau will receive the whole Democratic vote, "Soft and Hard," while the opposition will be divided between Fremont and Fillmore. Who can doubt, in view of these facts, that Mr. Buchanen will carry the State?

Pennsylvania, it is conceded by all parties, will roll up an immense majority for her favorite Leaving out of the calculation, therefore, Maine New Hampshire, New Jersey, Michigan, Ohio, Iowa and California, we have 99 electoral votes for Mr. Buchanan from the Free States, which. added to the 120 electoral votes of the South, would give him 70 more votes than are necessary to his election.

But, if our calculations should be wrong-if Mr. Fillmore should carry a por ion of the South, and Mr. Buchanan not receive the votes of as many Northern States as we anticipate, and thereby the election be thrown into the House of Representatives, there is but one contingency upon which Mr. Fremont could be elected.

The representatives from the fifteen slave States and the Buchanan delegation from California followed him in every political canvass in which he was engaged." make a majority, and Mr. Fremont could not be elected unless the representatives from the Southern Know Nothing States should sell out to the Black Republicans.

In the event, therefore, that the Southern Know Nothings hold ont and continue to vote for Mr. Fillmore during the three weeks the House has for ballotting, Mr. Breckinridge would be elected Vice-President by the Senate, and would become the President for four years, just as if the President was deceased.

The Democratic party, it will be seen then, is, in the pending Presidential election, fortified against everything but the treachery of the Southern Know Nothing members of Congress.

TES BIG GUN FIRED AT RANDOM .- It now appears that the President of the old Bank at Bowling Green fired at random. He was consulted, it seems, by the clique and upon their false statements the learned Judge based his opinion, and not from any facts that came within his own knowledge. If the facts are right, the opinion is right, vice versa. Nor does the Judge vouch for the truth of the facts. Vide his Monfords- graded class. ville letter. The fact is public opinion is becoming enlightened upon the course of these old Bank Satelites, and the Judge is preparing for snother dodge - a game he is familiar with. A few years ago he riggled out of the charge of being an emancipationist when he found the thing unpopular, and in less than no time he will be found riggling out of Know Nothingiam. Indeed, we are informed that he now disclaims being a member of the order. He voted against the great compromise of the great Henry Clay S. S. The New York Tribune of Tuesday says: The expansion of the bank loans continues, and the increase for the week is about a millon and a half. The increase for two weeks, however, is less than half a millon more than the increase of specie and not so much as the increase of deposits. Still in the present easy state of the money market any expansion appears to be unmoney market any expansion appears to be unnecessary and is the result only of a desire on the part of bank officers to employ their surplus funds. The specie is now above the highest point ever before reached, even when the Mexican indemnity fund was temporarily placed in bank.—
The Deposits show a nominally increase of $2,-100,000, but the actual increase is only about Dinklespiel, Plaintiff, agaltst Newland, linghes & Co., defendants. Plaintiff alleged that he was a merchant in Louisville in good standing and credit as such; MESSES. Editors: For two days past there has that defendants without case caused an attachbeen a great rejoicing among the K. N.'s of this ment to issue from the Louisville Chancery Court, which attachment was levied on plaintiff sgoods and sold the same, which greatly injured the plaintiff; that the defendants acted in a malicious the arrival of Mr. Fillmore at New York. The manner in swearing out the attachment; that on nomination of Buchanan and Breckinridge had the trial of the case in chancery and the suit was rich, delictous, and fruity in its flavor than any of the foreign brands. His Still Catawba with ice, the arrival of Mr. Fillmore at New York. The manner in swearing out the attachment; that on dismissed, and the opinion of the court below was affirmed by the Court of Appeals; that he had been damoged $4,000.

Defendants answered and denied that plaintiff was a merchant in good standing and credit and that they took out an attachment wrongfully and maliciously; that they had probable cause for taking out the same. They denied that plaintiff's credit was injured and impaired by the issuing out their writ.

The proof showed that defendants had sworn out an attachment from the Louisville Chancery ourt and had it levied on plaintiff's goods; that defendants had been advised by a merchant who and a large debt against plaintiff not to take ont he writ; that plaintlff was in good credit when the writ issued, but was not afterwards; that the attachment had been dismissed by Chancellor Pirtle, and his opinion affirmed by the Court of als; that plaintiff was a merchant and seemed to be doing well.

There was proof conducing to show that plainiff's credit had not been injured; that he failed n 1850; that another attachment had been issued and levied on the goods before defendants; that he was owing defendants $2,500, and they had tried every way they could to get plaintiff to se-cure it, and agreed that, if plaintiff would pay the debt and discharge the first attachment, detheir candidate. They would neither bet on the | fendants would not levy; that the first attachance with their selfish projects by threats of non, the sending up of sky rockets, the building writ plaintff and several of his friends (all Jews) were seen in a room together for a long time, and the result of their consultation was an assign by plaintiff of all his effects, securing all of his creditors so far as his means would pay, save the two attaching creditors; that his property would not pay half of his debts he had preferred in his

There was a good deal of conflicting testimony of Jew against Gentile.

The Court gave the following instructions:

1. It devolves upon the plaintiff to make out is cause of action by proving a state of facts howing a want of probable cause and malice in the defendants for suing out the attachment complained of. That if the jury believe from the evidence that defendants obtained the attachment without obable cause and with malice expressed or imied, they must find for plaintiff such damages as they believe he has sustained by reason of the ing out of such attachment.

3. That it is not necessary to prove express dice, but in the absence of circumstances going although the house would have easily held all to show probable cause the jury may infer malice. That to constitute probable cause, the dedants must prove on this trial the existence of uch facts before the sueing out of said attachnent, as would induce the belief in a prudent man that plaintiff had been guilty of conduct hich the law makes ground for an attachment. 5. That a belief on the part of defendants that given state of facts would justify an attachent, which in fact would not, does not amount

6. That in such a case it is not necessary to prove malice, either express or implied. 7. That the jury in finding damages against the defendants are not confined to the actual damages sustained by the plaintiff, but may give damages for injury the plaintiff may have sus utes. He concluded by telling them that he was tained in his business or credit or feelings neces sarily resulting from the attachment obtained against him by the defendants. That before they can find a verdiot for plaintiff, they must believe from the evidence, that deendants sued out the attachment and had the same levied on ulaintiffs goods, maliciously and without probable cause to suspect that plaintiff was about fraudulently disposing of his goods, and that showing the same was done without same prompted by malice to the plaintiff, and it devolves on plaintiff to show that the same was sued out both with malice and without a probable cause, and it does not devolve on the defendtwo of the most conservative slave States in the Union, Tennessec and Louisiana. HADDONFIELD, N. J. April 20. I was attacked by a severe pain in the side, in the region of the liver. I suffered intensely through the whole winter. During all this time I was confined to my house, had a violent cough, raised much bloody matter, and was supposed by myself and others to be in the last stages of Consumption. The February following when apparently life was at a close, I procured a bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. As soon as I commenced its use, I began to grow better. The soreness of my side grew less, the congh gradually left me, the profuse expectoration and spitting of blood ceased, and my general health ecame by degress restored. I was soon enabled to resume my trade, that of a carpenter, which have continued without interruption. I will further remark that this remarkable cure was effected by only three bottles of the Balsam. Truly yours, THOMAS COZZENS.
